Bangle Size Guide

Measure your hand:

You'll need a measuring tape, a piece of string or a strip of paper.

Close your fingers together and bend your thumb as far as possible into your hand, reaching towards your little finger (pretend that you were putting on a bangle).

Wrap the measuring tape, string or paper around the widest part of your hand. Keep the tape taut, it should not be loose.

Make a note of the size on the measuring tape or mark the string or paper and measure against a ruler.

This measurement gives us a hand circumference from which to work out the correct sized bangle for you.
